Shire of Coolgardie

Message from the Shire President
July 2018

Councillors have completed the six-monthly review of the performance of the CEO, with the assistance of our administration and human resources manager Bec Horan. The review was held at the Coolgardie Council Chamber on May 10, with all six councillors participating and completing assessments. I am pleased to report that our CEO Mr James Trail has passed the review, with a slightly increased improvement in overall performance both personally and within the organisation. Both parties have agreed to modify the CEO's key result areas to reflect the Shire's service level review so that councillors can make a better-informed assessment of the CEO performance during future reviews.

All Councillors and staff have been busy this month participating in planning and budget workshops in preparation for the formulation of the 2018/19 budget, as well as working through the Shire Community Strategic Plan and Corporate and Long Term Financial Plan.

Open community workshops were held in both Coolgardie and Kambalda during June to allow residents and ratepayers the opportunity to have input into the finalisation of the Community Strategic Plan. Once these plans are finalised they will be a guide for council to follow when prioritising and funding infrastructure and community projects during the next four years.

This implementation of these plans also ensures a relatively simple budget process in the future, as many projects have already been identified, planned for, and had funding allocated.

The Shire's technical services staff and our road construction crews have been working diligently on our road projects for the past two months. Work on the Ladyloch Road intersection and bypass have been completed, the sealing of Jaurdi Hills Road has been completed, and sections of Binneringie Road have been upgraded to enable the haulage of lithium from the mine at Bald Hill to the port at Esperance. The footpath upgrade program for this financial year is also complete in both Coolgardie and Kambalda.

Myself and CEO James Trail attended the National Assembly of Local Governments in Canberra from June 19 to 21, where we took the opportunity to meet with several federal ministers and senators to lobby and make them aware of the importance of our region, and on behalf of our Shire seeking federal assistance for road, housing and infrastructure projects in the Shire.

It was an opportunity to invite them to visit and see for themselves what we have on offer when they next travel to Western Australia. We received a good hearing on all occasions. I would like to acknowledge and thank Lesley Arnott and the staff at Rick Wilson's office for their assistance during our visit.

Meetings and Workshops attended this period:

- CEO review, Coolgardie - May 10.
- Meeting Carnegie Clean Energy representatives to discuss future solar power options for the Shire.
- Kurrawang Community Manager to discuss future partnership opportunities with the Shire - May 23.

From the desk of the CEO
July 2018

Hi Everyone

I hope you are all staying warm in this cooler goldfield's weather. The sunny days are nice but the night and early morning air certainly has a cold bite to it now.

The council held a community workshop in Kambalda and Coolgardie on June 12 and 13 and it was pleasing to see a good turnout from both communities. The topics discussed were the community strategic plan, the long term financial plan and an update on the Kambalda swimming pool and medical centre.

These community workshops are a great way to engage with your councillors and myself and it was great to see how passionate our community members are about these topics and your discussions and feedback is acknowledged and appreciated. Since the community workshops the Shire has started working with St Johns to explore options to provide medical services and community transport in Kambalda.

From P3

Well we are now at the start of a new financial year and we are pleased to say that the Shire has just finished the last financial year in a strong financial position with reserves fully cashed back and money in the bank. This is largely due to the operational savings that were made during the year with the implementation of the service level review.

Over the last few months our staff in all departments have been planning and getting their action plans and schedules into place for the next financial year. We are looking forward to the next 12 months and the positive direction that the council is heading.

School holidays are here again and it's a great way for our younger community to relax, reflect and get ready for the last two terms of school. The Kambalda and Coolgardie recreation centres have holiday activities on during the break, and there is a good range of things to choose from.

Coolgardie has had a visit this week from the architects that are drawing up the plans for the post office complex project, which we are now able to go ahead with due to the Shire's success in securing the Lotteries grant. Watch this space - exciting times are coming and it will be good to see our historical buildings being used again.

As the community would be well aware there is an extraordinary council election expiring October 2021. The in-person election is to be held on Saturday, July 21st July. I encourage as many members of the community to cast their votes for Tamme Keast or Eugen Winter. I wish both candidates good luck in the upcoming election.

The next council meeting will be held at Coolgardie on Tuesday 24th July 2018 at 6.00pm. We have copies of all council Agenda's and Minutes available for reading at the public libraries or they can be easily accessed on the Shire of Coolgardie website www.coolgardie.wa.gov.au.

Take care, and stay warm.

James Trail
Chief Executive Officer

Water wise program wins gold

Kambalda Community Recreation Facility has been recognised as one of the top water savers in the state with an award from Water Corporation.

The facility is one of 316 participants in the Waterwise Business, Waterwise Office and Waterwise Development programs and helped save 11 billion litres of water in 2016-17.

It achieved a water efficiency improvement of between 35-50 per cent in 2016-17, which resulted in being awarded Gold Waterwise Business status.

The Waterwise Business Program assists non-residential customers, using more than 20 million litres of scheme water each year, to save water. The Carnamah Recreation Centre received top honours in the Waterwise Business Program, with a Platinum recognition for reducing its water use by more than 50 per cent since it joined the program a decade ago.

The Waterwise Office Program is a partnership between the Water Corporation, Property Council of Australia and City of Perth, and helps office building owners and managers to save water. GDI Property Group, which operates 197 St Georges Terrace, achieved a Platinum recognition in the Waterwise Office Program.

The Waterwise Development Program is a partnership between the Water Corporation and the Urban Development Institute of Australia (WA Division) EnviroDevelopment Program. This program recognises the importance of designing water sensitive and liveable homes and communities.

Water minister Dave Kelly said the programs have saved more than 83 billion litres of water - about 36,889 Olympic swimming pools - since 2007.

"It is great to see such a wide variety of industries participate in these programs and their commitment to saving water. Some have been part of a water saving program for almost a decade, and it is encouraging to see them continue to explore new and innovative ways to save water.

"Ensuring the protection of our State's most precious resource for the long term is the responsibility of everyone, particularly as climate change continues to impact our rainfall levels."

The Kambalda Community Recreation Facility achieved a water efficiency improvement of between 35-50 per cent in 2016-17, which resulted in being awarded Gold Waterwise Business status.

Leesa Treen from the Kambalda Community Recreation Facility receives the Gold Waterwise Business award from Water Corporation's Tony Snelling.

Tellus Holdings Ltd

For their generous donation which allowed our Brigade to purchase a Breathing Apparatus Compressor.

The BA compressor is a huge asset for our station and enables our members to train regularly and to a high standard. The use of BA protects our volunteers from hazardous and toxic smoke and is a vital skill our members require when attending to a variety of incidents within our community.

Coolgardie Police News

From Sergeant Shannon McGeown

Crime

There has been a substantial reduction in reported offences during the second half of this financial year compared to the first half. Most significantly, there has been over a 65 per cent reduction in reported burglary offences. It is anticipated that by the end of this financial year there will have been less reported offences compared to the previous financial year (2016-2017). I will publish the official statistics for the 2017-2018 financial year once they have been finalised.

We've also had an increase in drug related offences by more than 150 per cent, which is attributed to the increased number of search warrants executed in Coolgardie. This has been in response to quality information provided by you the community, so I thank you for your assistance.

On June 5, 2018, Coolgardie police executed a search warrant at an address in Coolgardie and located a trafficable quantity of cannabis, more than 30 cannabis plants, an imitation firearm, 800 rounds of ammunition and a large quantity of gold suspected to have been stolen. A 35-year-old male and 56-year-old female were charged and are due to re-appear in court on July 9, 2018.

New Laws

The Terrorism (Extraordinary Powers) Amendment Bill 2018 was read a third time in State Parliament on May 15, 2018. These proposed new laws will effectively provide the Commissioner of Police the authority to order the use of pre-emptive lethal force in a terrorist or suspected terrorist incident. They are in response to the New South Wales State Coroner's inquest into the Lindt Café siege that occurred in 2014.

Recently, the Road Traffic Code was amended, requiring motorists passing an 'Incident Response Vehicle' (IRV) that is stationary with lights flashing, to move into another lane if safe to do so (if there are multiple lanes running in the same direction) to pass the IRV. An IRV includes an emergency vehicle (police, fire, ambulance), break down service vehicle or tow truck. Motorists must not exceed 40km/h when passing a stationary IRV with lights flashing. Penalties of $300 and 3 demerits apply.

SCHOOL HOLIDAY DISCO

During the school holiday period, Coolgardie police would like to put on a 'blue light' disco for school aged children. It will be held Wednesday, July 11, 2018 from 6pm-8pm at the Coolgardie Recreation Centre. We look forward to putting on a fun show with plenty of games and prizes.

Town gets creative with visiting band

Meanwhile, Penny and the team from GETS organised, cooked and served the free community dinner on the Friday night.

The Barefoot Bands members who visited us were Brenton Meynell and Nathan Brown from Sevenhertz, and Drew Goddard from Karnivool. Barefoot Bands' aim is all about discovering, recording, live performances, teaching and mentoring musicians in the remote outback while providing all the equipment that communities do not normally have access to. It was free and open to all ages and musical experience in the community.

This exciting week was made possible with the combination of funding and resources from the Community Development Programme and the Shire of Coolgardie and the efforts of the GETS team including Gwen Moir, Janelle Whitehead and Penny Press, the Coolgardie Community Resource and Recreation Centre staff, Goldrush Motel and ChurchWest.

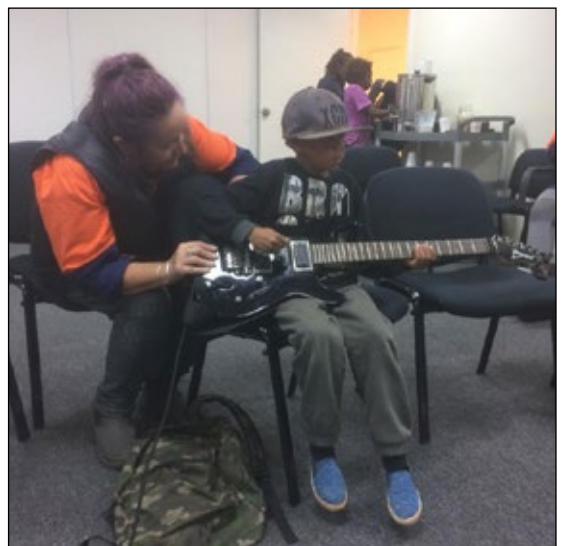

The Coolgardie Community Recreation Centre hosted Barefoot Bands and their equipment and our two function rooms were quickly turned into recording studios. GETS held the Cementimental daily workshops and the creations produced were stunning with Catlin having to do an extra trip to Bunnings to stock up on the supplies.

Willy Corcoran was recorded playing his bagpipes and Brenton had to ring Italy to see how Bon Scott was recorded with ACDC as Brenton had never recorded live bagpipes before. We have heard the draft version of Willy and the electric guitar mix and it sounds amazing; watch this space for the finished product.

Coolgardie Primary School came down and did some recordings and after school every day Coolgardie youth of all ages popped in for some music inspiration and instrument learning. We are looking forward to hearing the finished version of the community singing as it sounded amazing.

Thank you to ChurchWest who hosted the community for the free concert with their fantastic stage and sound set up. Catherine Nobel Howard delivered the Welcome to Country speech and the different entertainers performed during the night, with Tapping Stickz among those wowing the crowd. After the concert everyone headed to the Coolgardie Community Recreation Centre for the delicious sit-down meal that Penny Press and her team from GETS Coolgardie worked hard to prepare.

Thank you everyone who were involved with this excellent week and also to those who attended. Coolgardie certainly does have some amazing musicians and we look forward to more things happening like this in our community.

An update from our ranger services

Keeping you informed on how we are supporting community wellbeing, amenity and safety.

Community members may be aware that the Shire of Coolgardie has been working in a Shared Services Agreement with the City of Kalgoorlie Boulder for ranger services. This arrangement helps us meet the needs of our community and supports investigations and liaison on complaints relating to ranger matters.

Community together in preventing illegally dumping

Illegal dumping costs our community more than just being a eyesore. In June 2018 the Shire spent more than $5000 cleaning up illegal dumping of asbestos fence sheeting, which was dumped in eight laneway locations. In an effort to reduce to impact on the community and environment the Shire will be targeting illegal dumping with surveillance cameras.

For those that have information on offenders, please submit with any photo evidence, vehicle details and additional information to assist us to follow up. Prosecutions for minor illegal dumping offences occur, and the fine is between $200 and $10,000 if proceedings arrive in court.

Dogs ownership

Council is committed to encouraging responsible dog ownership to benefit the entire community.

Dog owners are responsible for ensuring their dogs are:

- Secured in a fenced yard on property;
- On a leash when in public; and
- Registered with the Shire and microchipped.

The Shire is currently targeting dog registration and following up to ensure owners comply. If your dog is collected by officers, owners will need to have dogs registered, pay impoundment fees and will have seven days to ensure their dog is microchipped. Dogs will not be released without owners paying the fees applicable.

Should you need assistance please call the Shire main line on (08) 9080 2111. All calls and information will be logged to enable the appropriate actions to be taken and followed up. We understand that this change in process may be inconvenient for some members of the public however it is important as it enables us to appropriately respond to your concerns.

For after hours emergency assistance, please contact the Shire main line and select option 1 for ranger to be diverted to the on-call officer. Officers will only attend in event of an emergency, such as a dog attack. For further assistance, police officers also have authority to act.

Should you have complaints in relation to ranger matters or services provided, it is encouraged that contact is made with the Shire and you submit your concern in writing.

KAMBALDA WEST

PLAYGROUP

JULY/AUGUST 2018

What a busy month it's been!

Kambalda West Playgroup has been buzzing with excitement, awesome activities and so much more! We've welcomed a few new families to our group as well as some whom have returned with gorgeous new additions. So much has been happening at KWPG and there are so many upcoming events, so keep reading to find out more!

What's been happening:

On May 29 KWPG were able to participate in the Kambalda Jobs Expo, where we had a play area set up for children to dress up, create and play while mum and dad chatted to some companies with great job opportunities.

On June 6 we had a guest speaker, Mel from the WAPHA, attend our playgroup session, along with a few other community members, to talk about the 'My Health Records' and answer any questions people had. There was a great turn out, and it was followed by a seed bomb making session to celebrate World Environment Day.

With all the amazing cultural backgrounds that we have in our group, we couldn't go past having a Multicultural day ourselves. On June 8 we asked all the children to bring in something that they could share with the group about their background/s. We shared stories, coloured in hands and flags of our heritage, and also created our own flags and attached them to our tree, not to mention the delicious cultural morning tea we had.

There's always time to celebrate, especially when birthdays come around. Dela Keighran celebrated her fourth birthday trollstice style! We got to make troll hair, sing and dance and dance and sing and SING AND DANCE! We also enjoyed some yummy troll cake, and with some of the mummies also being let loose on the piñata, it was a great day for all.

Suez grants

As you may know we carried out a Mother's Day raffle to raise funds to improve our outdoor educational facilities. We approached Jim and his colleagues from the men's shed with our ideas and they were more than happy to help; we are extremely grateful.

Since then we have applied for a grant to assist us in this project, so we can use the best materials on offer to create longevity out of the equipment so future playgroup members can enjoy.

These include a mud kitchen, elevated garden beds as well as a mobile music station. All of these are to encourage outdoor sensory play as well as encouraging more fauna to the area, creating an awareness and responsibility to our environment, not to mention the positive community involvement it will bring. So please cross your fingers and toes for us that it goes through.

Why go to playgroup?

Playgroups offer babies, toddlers and young children a wide variety of early learning experiences. Playgroup develops physical skills, teaches problem solving, communication and social interaction and, of course, it's great fun!

Playgroup is a great way for your child(ren) to learn about the world, make friends and develop social skills. Playgroup also gives mums, dads, grandparents and caregivers a chance to share ideas and experiences. Many long-term friendships begin at playgroup.

If you would like to join us, come and meet Kambalda

Big congrats to one of our members, Elley, who gave birth on March 20 to a gorgeous baby girl named lylah. So happy to have you and your family back at playgroup.

West Playgroup; we gather on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays from 9-11.30am, at the Kambalda Community and Resource Centre. Or if you have any further inquiries please contact Jacinta Perkins (co-ordinator) on 0430 830 003 or Nancy McCulloch (secretary) on 0431 626 098. Also check out our facebook page.

The Pastor's Pen with Bill Kirkland

The Bible speaks a lot about vanity. There is a book written by Solomon about how he was super rich, denied himself nothing and lived luxuriously. When reflecting on life he wrote 'The words of the preacher, the son of David, king in Jerusalem. Vanity of vanities, says the preacher, vanity of vanities! All is vanity.' Ecclesiastes 1:1-2

Vanity today is often associated with people who constantly want to take selfies, or stand in front of the mirror all day. People who constantly need the applause of others are considered vain. The word vain can mean without purpose, without cause and without substance. Vanity can come from admiring one's beauty or perceived beauty or it can simply come from living a life completely for self which ends up being totally empty, without any substance or cause.

Solomon drank the finest wine, took hundreds of beautiful women as wives and had many servants. His reflection on life was that all is vanity. The Scriptures instruct believers in the Lord Jesus Christ not to live vain lives. It states that without God who is the Creator of beauty, nations walk according to the vanity of their minds. In other words, the purpose, the substance, the cause that one was created for, is substituted for something that will ultimately prove worthless.

The motto that we only live once so we must indulge in everything good and bad appeals to the mind but ultimately ends up as vanity, as Solomon found out. The opposite to that is someone who finds an eternal purpose that will not only affect their own generation but many generations to come. All is not vanity when one finds their reason for living in Jesus Christ.

Join the world's largest treasure hunt

Did you know that Coolgardie and Kambalda are a part of a world outdoor adventure that is happening 24 hours a day and is participated in worldwide by travellers and enthusiasts of all ages?

The activity is called "geocaching" and basically, it's a treasure hunt. To play, participants use the geocaching app on their phones to find cleverly hidden containers called 'geocaches'. There are millions of geocaches (more than 3,124,519) hidden worldwide in 190 countries that are waiting to be discovered.

Coolgardie has seven of them, and Kambalda has five. The caches come in all different shapes, sizes and difficulties and are hidden in both rural and urban settings.

To get started, you simply just need to download the free geocaching app and create an account to search for caches near your location. This is also accessible to laptops and computers as well. Go to <https://www.geocaching.com>

Once you find a geocache, open it up and sign the logbook. You may discover some trade items (like small toys, keychains, or trinkets). The general rule of thumb is that if you take something you must leave something of equal value or more behind. Place the container back where you found it for the next person.

Reasons to do geocaching:

1. It gets you outside and is a great way to stay healthy and active.
2. Free fun for the whole family.
3. Discover places you never knew existed in your own neighbourhood or while you are travelling.
4. You learn fun facts from the clues that are given to find the caches.

Happy hunting!

Laws for dog owners

FACT SHEET – LAWS FOR DOG OWNERS

This document provides a summary of the legislation which applies to dogs and the dog owners.

WHAT DOES THE DOG ACT COVER?

The Act addresses the registration of dogs, the keeping of dogs in the community and the legal obligations of dog owners. The Act applies to all canines. This includes dingoes and dog/dingo crossbreeds.

WHO ENFORCES THE ACT?

The Act is enforced by local governments within their respective districts.

If you are aggrieved by a local government's application of the Act, you may be entitled to have that decision reviewed in the State Administrative Tribunal.

WHY DO THESE OBLIGATIONS APPLY?

Everyone who owns a dog has a responsibility to ensure that the dog is properly cared for. In addition, it is important that dog owners handle their animals in a way that respects other people in the community.

LEGAL RESPONSIBILITIES FOR DOG OWNERS:

Dog control - Penalty: $200 to $5000

If you own a dog, you have a legal responsibility to keep the animal under control, either within a fenced area on your property or on a leash when in public. Local governments can set out dog exercise areas where dogs can be taken off a lead without penalty. Please contact your local government for further details on the exercise areas in your district.

Barking dogs - Penalty: $200 to $5000

While dogs are allowed to bark, they are not allowed to bark excessively in a way that causes a nuisance.

Dog droppings - Penalty: $50 to $5000

Dog droppings are a source of annoyance to the users of footpaths and public recreation areas. Most local governments have local laws in place that require a dog owner to remove their dog's droppings if the dog excretes in a public area. The penalty for failing to do this will vary between districts.

Dog attacks - Penalty: $3000 to $20,000

A dog attack is a very serious matter. In addition to harming other animals, a violent dog can inflict serious injury on children or the elderly. If your dog attacks a person or another animal, you can be held responsible even if you are not there at the time. If the dog causes serious injury to someone, you may even receive a jail sentence.

Dog registration - Penalty: $200

A dog owner is legally required to register the dog with the appropriate local government once the dog is 3 months or older. To register your dog, contact your local government for a registration form and a list of applicable fees.

Registration tags - Penalty: $200

A registered dog is required to wear a collar with a valid registration tag. This tag will be issued by your local government when you pay your registration fee.

Microchipping - Penalty: $200 to $5000

All dogs must be microchipped once they reach 3 months of age. Non-microchipped dogs cannot be sold or transferred to a new owner. This rule applies even if the dog is under 3 months of age. Dogs may be exempt from receiving a microchip if they cannot receive one due to medical grounds. In those situations, the owner will need to obtain a medical exemption certificate from a registered vet.

DANGEROUS DOGS

The Act has specific obligations which apply to:

- restricted breed dogs.
- commercial security dogs.
- dogs who have previously committed a dog attack.

In many cases, the penalty issued for an offence under the Act will be doubled if a dangerous dog is involved. Dangerous dogs also have specific requirements regarding collars, muzzling and general confinement. The dangerous dog fact sheets on the department's website set out this information in further detail.

DOG LOCAL LAWS

Each local government can introduce local laws on a range of matters, including the number of dogs which can be kept on the premises. For further information on your local laws, please contact your local government. If you wish to inspect your district's dog local law, a copy can be freely accessed on the department's local law register.

REVIEW OF DECISIONS

Dog owners have a right to seek a review of certain decisions made under the Act, if the owner believes the decision was incorrect. These decisions can be internally reviewed by the local government or they can be appealed in the State Administrative Tribunal.

This right of appeal applies to:

- a decision on whether excess dogs may be kept on the premises.
- a local government's refusal to register your dog.
- an order declaring that your dog is dangerous.
- the seizure of your dog.
- a dog destruction order.

If you wish to have one of these decisions reviewed, you should notify the local government as soon as possible and consider obtaining legal advice.

The three workshops that we held during this year have attracted very good numbers for us out here in Kambalda. People from Coolgardie and Kalgoorlie are supporting our programs and that is ideally what we should be doing to make up good numbers for our programs.

Jacqui Mills Negative Painting Workshop

Held on Saturday 26th May with nine attendees who all managed to take their very own painting on canvas home. There were many variations in choice of colour with very satisfactory results.

They all love our Art Shed.

Coolgardie Community Recreation Centre

There has been lots of exciting things happening in our Coolgardie Community Recreation Centre this month.

We have been working with Hayley and Matt from Hope Services for their weekly visits to Coolgardie, which have included outings to Coolgardie Park for some outdoor fun or craft at the recreation centre. Hope Services is here on Wednesdays from 3pm-4.30pm, and they provide our community with a delicious barbecue, and snacks as well as playing some basketball with the kids. It has been great seeing the kids engage with our Hope Heroes and having fun.

This cold weather is certainly suitable for lots of reading and DVD fun. Have you seen our free books in the foyer? Have you joined up with our free public library? Come on down during the day to grab yourself a great book or DVD to read, watch or swap and enjoy while having a warm cuppa during this cold weather.

We had an exciting brainstorming and planning evening last Wednesday and we have worked out some excellent new projects and workshops that we look forward to delivering to the community in the new financial year. This session included all the staff from the Coolgardie Recreation Centre, CRC and visitors centre and the end result was a combination of great ideas for all ages. We are very excited to bring these ideas to the community in the future.

This week we hosted the CAPS Coolgardie school for their basketball game of CAPS versus Cops. It was an action-packed game with lots of speed, and skill. The stadium was alive with the cheering and clapping and the end result was a CAPS win by one point. Well done everyone; a great effort.

We are running a Blue Light Disco evening in conjunction with the Coolgardie Police on Wednesday, July 11, from 6pm-8pm at the recreation centre. Check out our poster on page 7 for more details.

Wow! What an awesome month June has been for our fitness circuit classes at the Kambalda Community Recreation Centre.

Three classes are held each week, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, from 9.30am-10.15am. These classes are a great way to keep fit and make friends, and creates a positive and supportive space to build your fitness level and have a great time.

Each day has a set structure that aims to accommodate all areas of fitness. Monday sessions concentrate on cardio and weight training; Wednesday classes focus on cardio and boxing; Friday classes target full body high intensity interval training, and child care is also offered.

What used to be called our senior classes is no more and has been renamed 'Gentle Exercises'! It is great to see the competition drive in each class between the young attendees and the seniors, as the seniors push themselves to keep up with the young attendees. This also encourages the young attendees to push themselves during the sessions.

"I'm sure the seniors would agree that there is nothing gentle about our classes; we have beginners through to advance at these sessions which is a great motivator for all," says Bernadette, the class instructor and KCRF officer.

"Lots of new exercises have been introduced to all classes and I love that everyone gives everything a go and never quits. Everyone is at a different fitness level so beginner, intermediate and advanced; so, no matter what level you are at there will always be something that you can do!"

Cashless debit card office now at Coolgardie Community Recreation Centre

The Cashless Debit Card shopfront is now located at the Coolgardie Community Recreation Centre, where Shire staff will continue to assist customers with the setting up of their Indue card.

Participants are welcome to come and talk to our friendly team if they have any questions or concerns regarding their Cashless Debit Card. If you haven't come in and spoken to a team member, we encourage you to, so we can help set up house payments, bills etc. to come out of your Indue account.

The team at the shopfront would also like to inform Cashless Debit Card participants that financial counselling and guidance is available through the Centrecare team in Kalgoorlie. This is free, offering a friendly and helpful service to those in need, and they will travel to Coolgardie to see you. Come in and see us at the shopfront if you are interested or would like to know more.

We would like to remind participants of the services that our team offer to them. Our services include: Activating new and replacement cards; setting up email addresses; assistance with online banking, including transfers and bills; balance checks; and answering general questions about the Indue card.

■ The Cashless Debit Card shopfront is open at the Coolgardie Community Recreation Centre, Monday to Friday, from 9am to 2.30pm.

Coolgardie Day Celebrations to feature all-day fun for everyone

The committee has been working hard again this year and is looking forward to the next Coolgardie Day Celebrations, which will be held on Sunday, September 16, 2018.

The Coolgardie Day Celebration’s motto is “It’s all about the family” and thanks to our wonderful sponsors to date we will once again be providing a fun-filled, entertaining day for our community and the many visitors that we welcome into our town – Coolgardie, the Mother of the Goldfields.

We will have lots of free fun in the park again, with Bounty Hunter being our main band, woodchoppers, rock-drilling and our many family free activities, including a freestyle clinic/comp at the skatepark - and did we mention the delicious food stalls that will be available?!

There will be lots of thriller rides for side show alley coming over from the eastern states and a huge variety of street stalls, with a lot of new ones who haven’t been here before. It is not too late to register your stall; early bird discounted registration closes on July 30, 2018, with September 5, 2018 the final day for registering.

Thank you to our sponsors so far (listed below), because of you we can make Coolgardie Day happen.

Well another day of agility was held on Sunday, June 17. We started the day off at 10am with led agility courses, then after a quick break held the ridden agility courses. We had a couple of new members compete for the first time who went very well with their noble steeds. The day was finished with awards being handed out and a well deserved barbecue lunch. A big thank you to everyone for coming out and joining in, and thank you to Alec and Owen for cooking lunch.

TV upgrades and disturbances explained

The Shire has been provided with the following article from ACMA (Australian Communications and Media Authority) to answer any questions that our residents have in regards to the television reception upgrades recently done and why they may have experienced television broadcasting disturbances with the recent MPEG4 upgrade.

Q. Have you seen a new TV channel advertised in your area or on your TVs electronic program guide (EPG), but for some reason you can't view it?

A. This may be because TV broadcasters are now using a video standard called MPEG-4 for some of their new channels. The good news is MPEG-4 is more efficient at transferring data - which means we get to feast on more content.

Read on as we unravel the MPEG-4 video standard - what it is, how can you get it and what you can do if your current telly is not compatible.

Q. Why do TV broadcasters keep changing channel configurations?

A. Australia is divided into several TV licence areas and each of these licence areas has provision for two national broadcasters (ABC and SBS) and three commercial broadcasters. Each broadcaster is allocated the same amount of spectrum to deliver their TV services. The number of channels that broadcasters can provide in this spectrum depends on the technology they use to compress the video and audio.

When digital television began in Australia in 2001, the MPEG-2 standard was used for video compression. Fifteen years later, standards have evolved and broadcasters are now using MPEG-4 for some of their new channels, so they can give their audiences more channels within the spectrum (bandwidth) available to them.

Q. What is MPEG-4 video and why have broadcasters started using it?

A. MPEG-4 video is all about compression - it reduces the amount of data needed to reproduce a video and is an efficient way of sending video data. MPEG-4 video is shorthand and refers to the MPEG-4 (Part 10) standard, which is also called MPEG-4 AVC (Advanced Video Coding), or sometimes H.264.

MPEG-4 video coding allows the same program to be broadcast using significantly less data than required using the MPEG-2 video standard. This means that if broadcasters convert the video content from MPEG-2 to MPEG-4, bandwidth will be freed up so they can provide extra channels or provide more high definition (HD) programs. How much bandwidth is saved depends on a range of variables, but it can be in the range of 40-60 per cent, so on average an MPEG-4 standard definition (SD) program takes about half the bandwidth of an MPEG-2 SD program.

New channels thanks to more efficient MPEG-4 standard

Some of the new channels using MPEG-4 video include:

Metro markets

Seven Network: 7HD, Racing.com

Nine Network: 9HD, 9Life, eXtra

Network Ten: Ten HD

Regional Markets

Prime/7: Racing.com

WIN: WIN HD

NBN: NBN HD, Life

Q. Why does it matter which video compression standard is used?

A. TVs use electronic chipsets that determine which video compression standard works on your TV. TVs tend to be either MPEG-2 only, or MPEG-2 and MPEG-4 compatible.

If your TV has an MPEG-2-only chipset, you cannot do a software or firmware upgrade on it to enable it to decode MPEG-4 signals.

Some TVs that are MPEG-2 and MPEG-4 compatible have a configuration setting that only allows MPEG-2 signals to be displayed by default. These TVs require you to go to the settings menu and change the option to enable MPEG-4 content.

Q. How do I know if my TV is MPEG-4 compatible?

A. Your TV is MPEG-4 compatible if you can see and hear the channels that use MPEG-4 standard. You may have to perform either a manual or auto-tune to receive the new channels first. If, after performing a manual/auto-tune, some channels on your TV only have sound and you cannot see any video on the channels that use MPEG-4, then it's probably an MPEG-2-only compatible TV.

The age of your TV may also provide a clue. Most TVs purchased before 2009/2010 tend to be MPEG-2 only, whereas many (but not all) TVs purchased after this date are MPEG-4 compatible. If you bought your TV after 2010 and you're still not able to get any of the channels that use the MPEG-4 standard, you may need to check with your TV manual or manufacturer if it is MPEG-4 compatible.

Quick guide to get the new channels:

1. Try an auto-scan of your TV (you may need to delete the channels first).
2. Check digital TV tuning settings to see if there is an MPEG-4 AVC channels access option (some Panasonic TVs) and then perform an auto-scan.

Q. My TV is not MPEG-4 compatible—what can I do?

A. If your TV is not MPEG-4 compatible, then there are a couple of options to consider. The cheapest solution is to pick up an MPEG-4 compatible set-top box, which cost around $40-$60 (sometimes even cheaper) and connect this to your TV. Most new equipment tends to be MPEG-4 compatible, but it's worth checking before you buy. Alternatively, you can purchase a new TV or a personal video recorder (PVR) that is MPEG-4 compatible. You can expect more MPEG-4 channels to start in the near future as broadcasters look for ways to bring more content to their viewers.

Q. If I buy a new TV will it be compatible with the new emerging standards?

A. Technology is advancing at a rapid rate and broadcast standards are continuing to evolve. The free-to-air broadcast industry is yet to determine future directions for compression standards to be implemented in TV markets in Australia. While almost all new TVs bought today would be compatible with MPEG-4, not many are yet compatible with future transmission standards such as DVB-T2 or future video compression standards such as MPEG-H HEVC (H.265) that might be rolled out in the future.

During the month of June we had the opportunity to join in on FoodBank's Food Sensations program. This program allowed us to participate in video conferencing with a qualified FoodBank dietician, who provided useful and interesting information about nutrition, reading food labels, budgeting and food safety. After each lesson we cooked some delicious meals from the recipe book they had provided to participants.

There has been some delicious food and the participants all joined in and had a go at preparing the meals. Thank you to the participants, I think it has been a successful program and I think we have all learnt a lot, especially about how much sugar is in certain drinks!

We held a mini jobs expo that had stall holders from some local mining companies, financial services, businesses and local volunteer community groups. Stall holders said they enjoyed the event and received many applications from potential employees.

Coolgardie Community Recreation Centre

Another month has gone by at the Coolgardie CRC and it was a month filled with knowledge, creativity, texture, colour, new bouncy carpet and lots of fun.

New carpet

In the second week of June we had brand new carpet with a comfy underlay laid down in our CRC and the function rooms and, wow, what a difference. This was all made possible due to a successful grant received from our funding body, the Department of Primary Industries and Regional Development. It is very appreciated by our community and will be well used in many years to come.

Story Time with Jess

Jess Neill has been our magical story teller and has been visiting Coolgardie Primary and CAPS Coolgardie fortnightly with her Better Beginnings suitcase filled with puppets, animals, felt boards, craft activities and posters. There has been lots of learning with fun and laughter. Jess will be also delivering this program fortnightly at the Coolgardie CRC starting on Monday 23 July 2018. It will run from 10am–11am. Come down and see us at the CRC and thank you Jess, we love your work.

Plastic bottles

Thank you to everyone who has brought in plastic water and soft drink bottles for us for our new project. Rosemarie, our creative flower artist, has already come up with a new flower design - and we are talking doubled layered.

New action plan for 2018/2019

It's that time again when we submit our action plan to our funding body detailing all of our planned events, workshops and information sessions for the next financial year. Thank you to everyone for their feedback, it helps us with our ideas, and we do have a good variety of things to deliver to our community and are looking forward to this.

If you would like further information on upcoming activities, please contact Leanne on 9025 0309 or email: coolcrc@coolgardie.wa.gov.au
